Foreward...

Eyes are one of God's most precious gifts to mankind. They are capable of vision far beyond that of material objects. Eyes see and record such emotions as fear, joy, bewilderment, and anxiousness.

The eyes of sophomores reveal the fear, joy, and bewilderment which their hearts hold when they enter Salinas High School.

The eyes of juniors possess a look of confidence. The bewilderment has vanished, yet the eagerness to become a mighty senior is reflected in its place.

The combined look of bewilderment and confidence which glows in the eyes of the seniors casts a ray of superiority. Yet their eyes are still fearful because they can no longer look to the past. They must now look to the future, as they are the eyes of the leaders of today, not tomorrow.

SENIOR CLASS ADVISORS

MISS NASH

MRS. ZEKOS

Bewildered, confused, we entered SHS three years ago, never realizing that our dream of becoming steady, secure seniors would become a reality so soon. We pause for a moment before we resume our journey on the road to adulthood to look back at three wonderful years which have passed so quickly. Carefully we recorded each event, and now as we open our book before us, the pages seem to come to life.

Our first year . . . the welcome assembly . . . Get-Acquainted Dance . . . bringing glory to our class by winning the A.F.S. magazine drive . . . selecting our class rings . . . Sophomore Hop . . . just one whole year of being little people.

Then, well adjusted juniors . . . selling at football games . . . again capturing first place in the magazine drive . . . anticipating our student body leadership . . . hours of diligent work and preparation to present our prom, Tabu, to the senior class . . . one year of belonging.

Finally, seniors, the last big chance to prove what a wonderful class we are . . . our last rallies . . . forgetting the defeats . . . always remembering the victories . . . the enchantment of the Christmas Ball, Snow Flake Lane . . . winning the A.F.S. magazine drive to complete our winning streak . . . our Senior Party . . . presenting the Senior Play . . . our big night, guests of honor at the Junior-Senior Prom . . . the excitement of Ditch Day . . . attending our last school dance, the Senior Ball, with laughs for the opening number and an encore of tears . . . then, before we knew it, we were listening to the strains of "Pomp and Circumstance" as we stood solemnly together as the senior class of 1961 for the very last time.

These chapters being completed we leave behind us the carefree and distressing moments, the laughter, the tears, and all the memories of the most significant years of our young lives. Now we gaze upon the twisted road of life which lies ahead, and wonder where it leads and what it holds . . .

Mighty Seniors Lead The Way

Seniors enjoy the front center section of the auditorium as they anticipate the opening of the annual Junior Statesman Assembly.

Loyal seniors of '61 showed great enthusiasm as they backed the Cowboys all the way.

Arita Snyder and Barbara Jefferies express the rooting section's enthusiasm with their close harmony.

Busy were we juniors this past year conscientiously and diligently studying, participating in various clubs and activities, and preparing dutifully to be the leaders of tomorrow. During activities and meetings, our class was under the direction of Lynn Hettrick, president. One of our most successful endeavors was the concessions at the football games. Here we served the school and earned money to support the activities of our class throughout the year. Other memories that will always be tucked away in our minds are those of the Junior-Senior Prom. How could we ever forget the hours of preparation and decorating that went into our final tribute to the graduating seniors.

We can still recall our first days at Salinas High as shy, confused sophomores. After the excitement of the strange new school was over, and we became more acquainted with our classmates, we held our election. To lead our class as president we chose J. R. Monigold, assisted by Sandra Anselmo, vice-president; Jane Clark, Secretary; and Millie Jones, treasurer.

One of the most memorable momemts this past year was the purchasing of class rings, a day when everyone walked around showing his most prized possession. Also, another activity of the Class of '63 was the "Zombie Jamboree," the very successful Sock Hop.

from "Rebel"

A thrilling moment in
"Rebel Without A Cause"

During the year the Thespians presented many fine productions. Among them were: "Rebel Without A Cause," "Geraldine And The White Robe," and the Evening at the Theater productions. The stage crew was very helpful in putting on productions.

Wranglers

Wranglers are a service organization of Salinas High School. Led by Mr. Mandel and Dorothy Forbord, they usher at games and help to keep order.

Merrilee Martin, Diana Degen, Judy Burns, and Judi Osborn enjoy a noon hour sunning on the steps of the new entrance.

SHS Cowboy mascot looks on to assure a Cowboy victory.

Activities

RALLIES

Cheerleaders were present at the Menlo Bears' funeral and mourned with others who attended this joyous event.

With chins up and toes pointed, our pom-pon girls dance to another clever march at a noon rally in the inner court.

Pom-pon girls stir up excitement as the Cowboys make another touchdown.

"Here we come Menlo – here we come."

"Gee coach – where's the team?"

Salinas High School Rooters instill school spirit as they loudly support their football team.

"Go—Go—Go—Go—Team Go!"

"Here's to Salinas High . . . ."

The night we paid tribute to Ole will never be forgotten. Here Ole accepts the Student Body gift with appreciation.

The revered mascots of SHS and Menlo-Atherton are shown accepting the friendly challenge to do battle on the gridiron.

HOMECOMING

Our queen and her court were in their glory on November 5. This event will mark the beginning of a tradition for Salinas High School.

Excitement mounts as Queen DiAnn enters the stadium to be crowned.

Gary Plumlee escorts Attendant Pam de Franco down the aisle before the crowning of the queen.

QUEEN AND HER COURT
Pam de Franco, Jane Taylor, Queen DiAnn Mahler, Jan Wilson, Lynn Blair

And "Sink 'em" we did! Enthusiasm that marched through Main Street and back to the bon fire rally, exploded into a victory never to be forgotten.

North High Viking burns at bon fire rally.

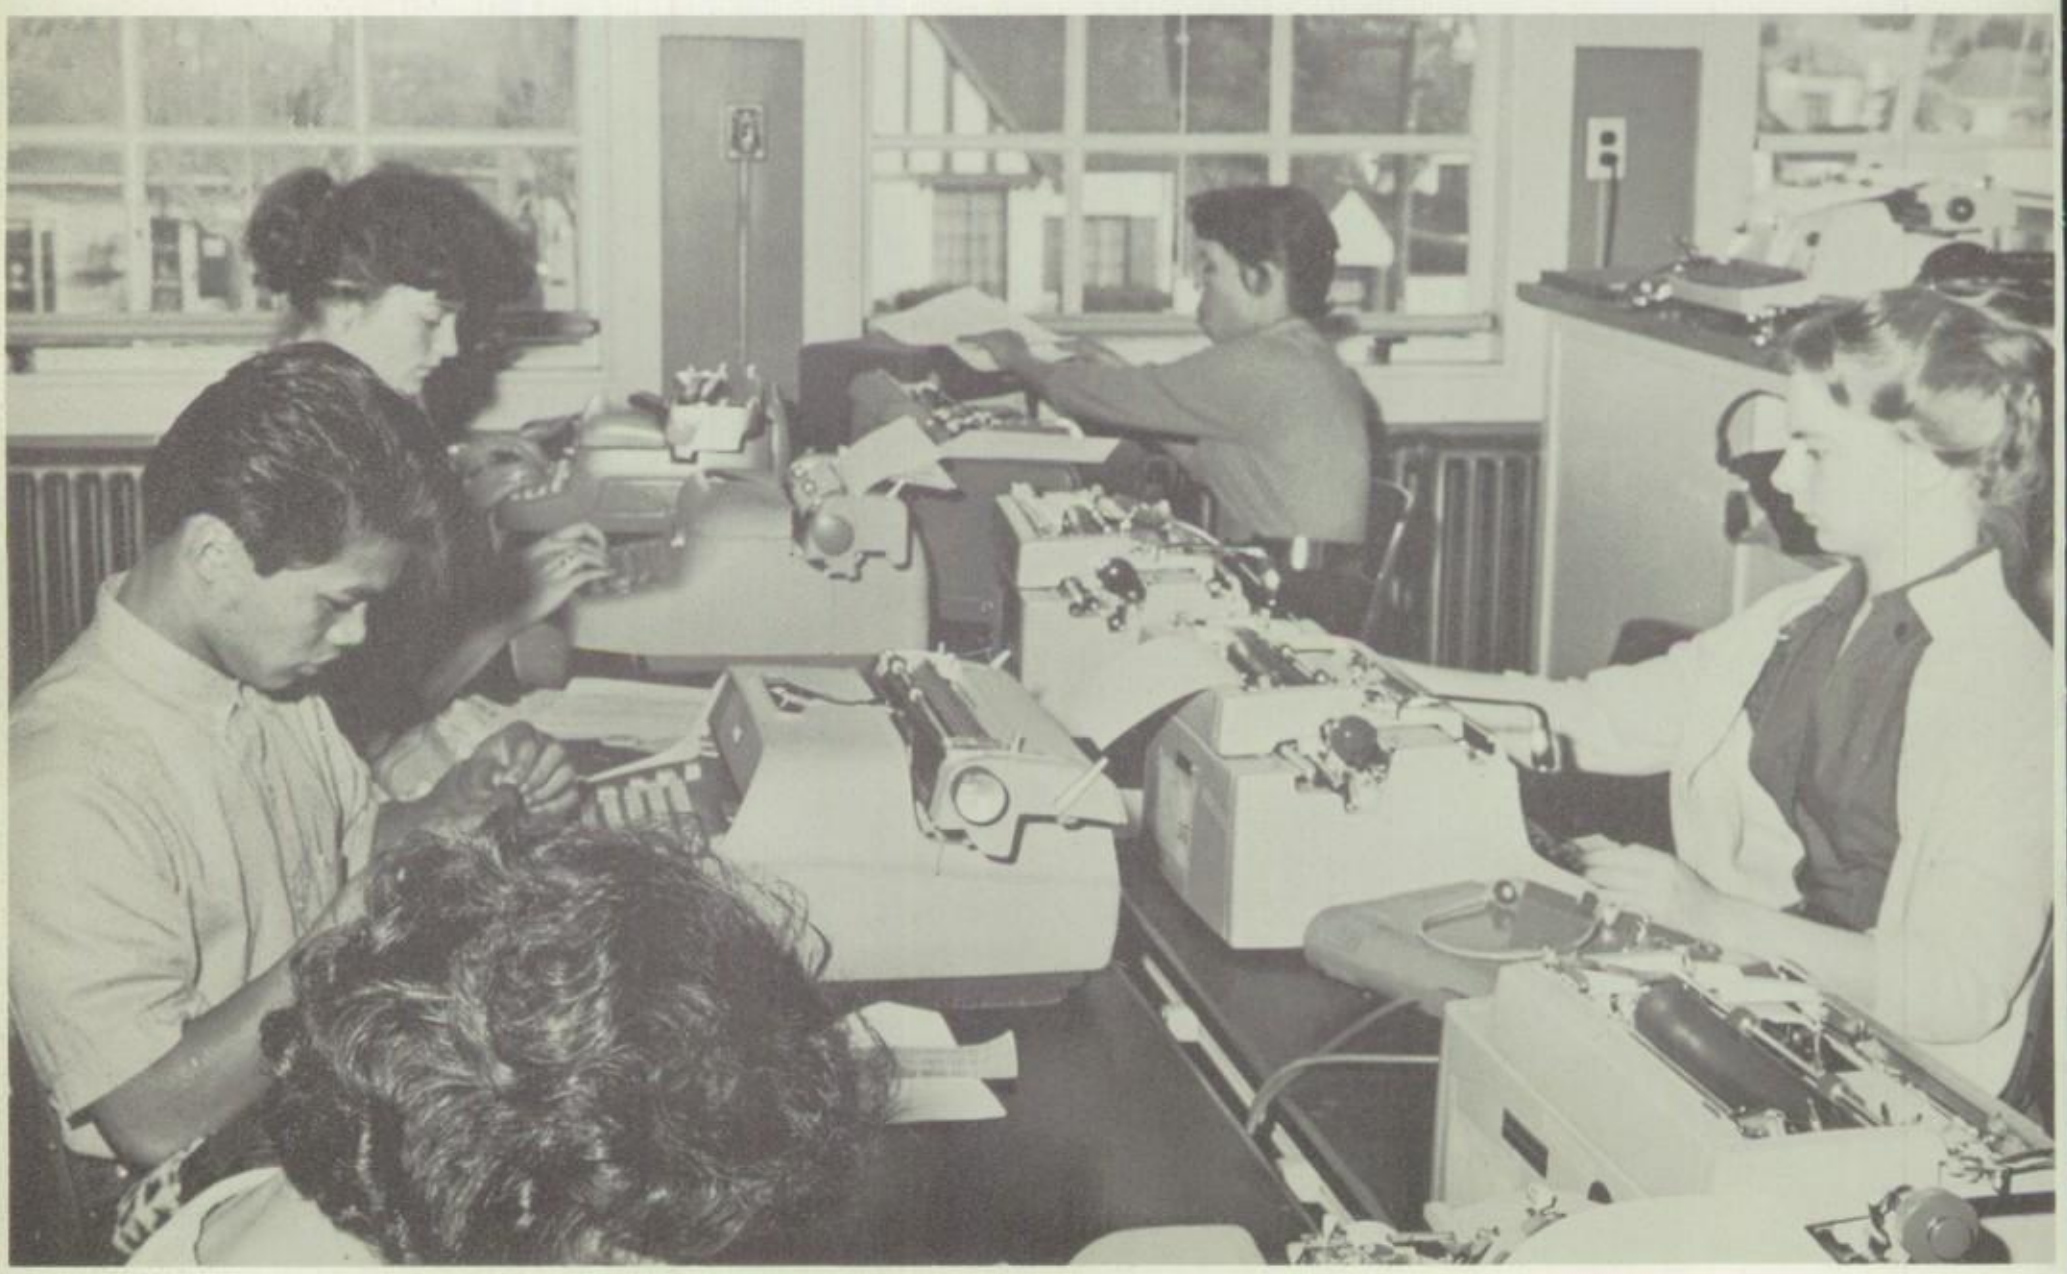
Alma Mater rings through the stadium after the Cowboy victory over North Salinas Vikings.

Mr. Marsh makes the presentation to the outstanding players of the Salinas High-North Salinas High game.

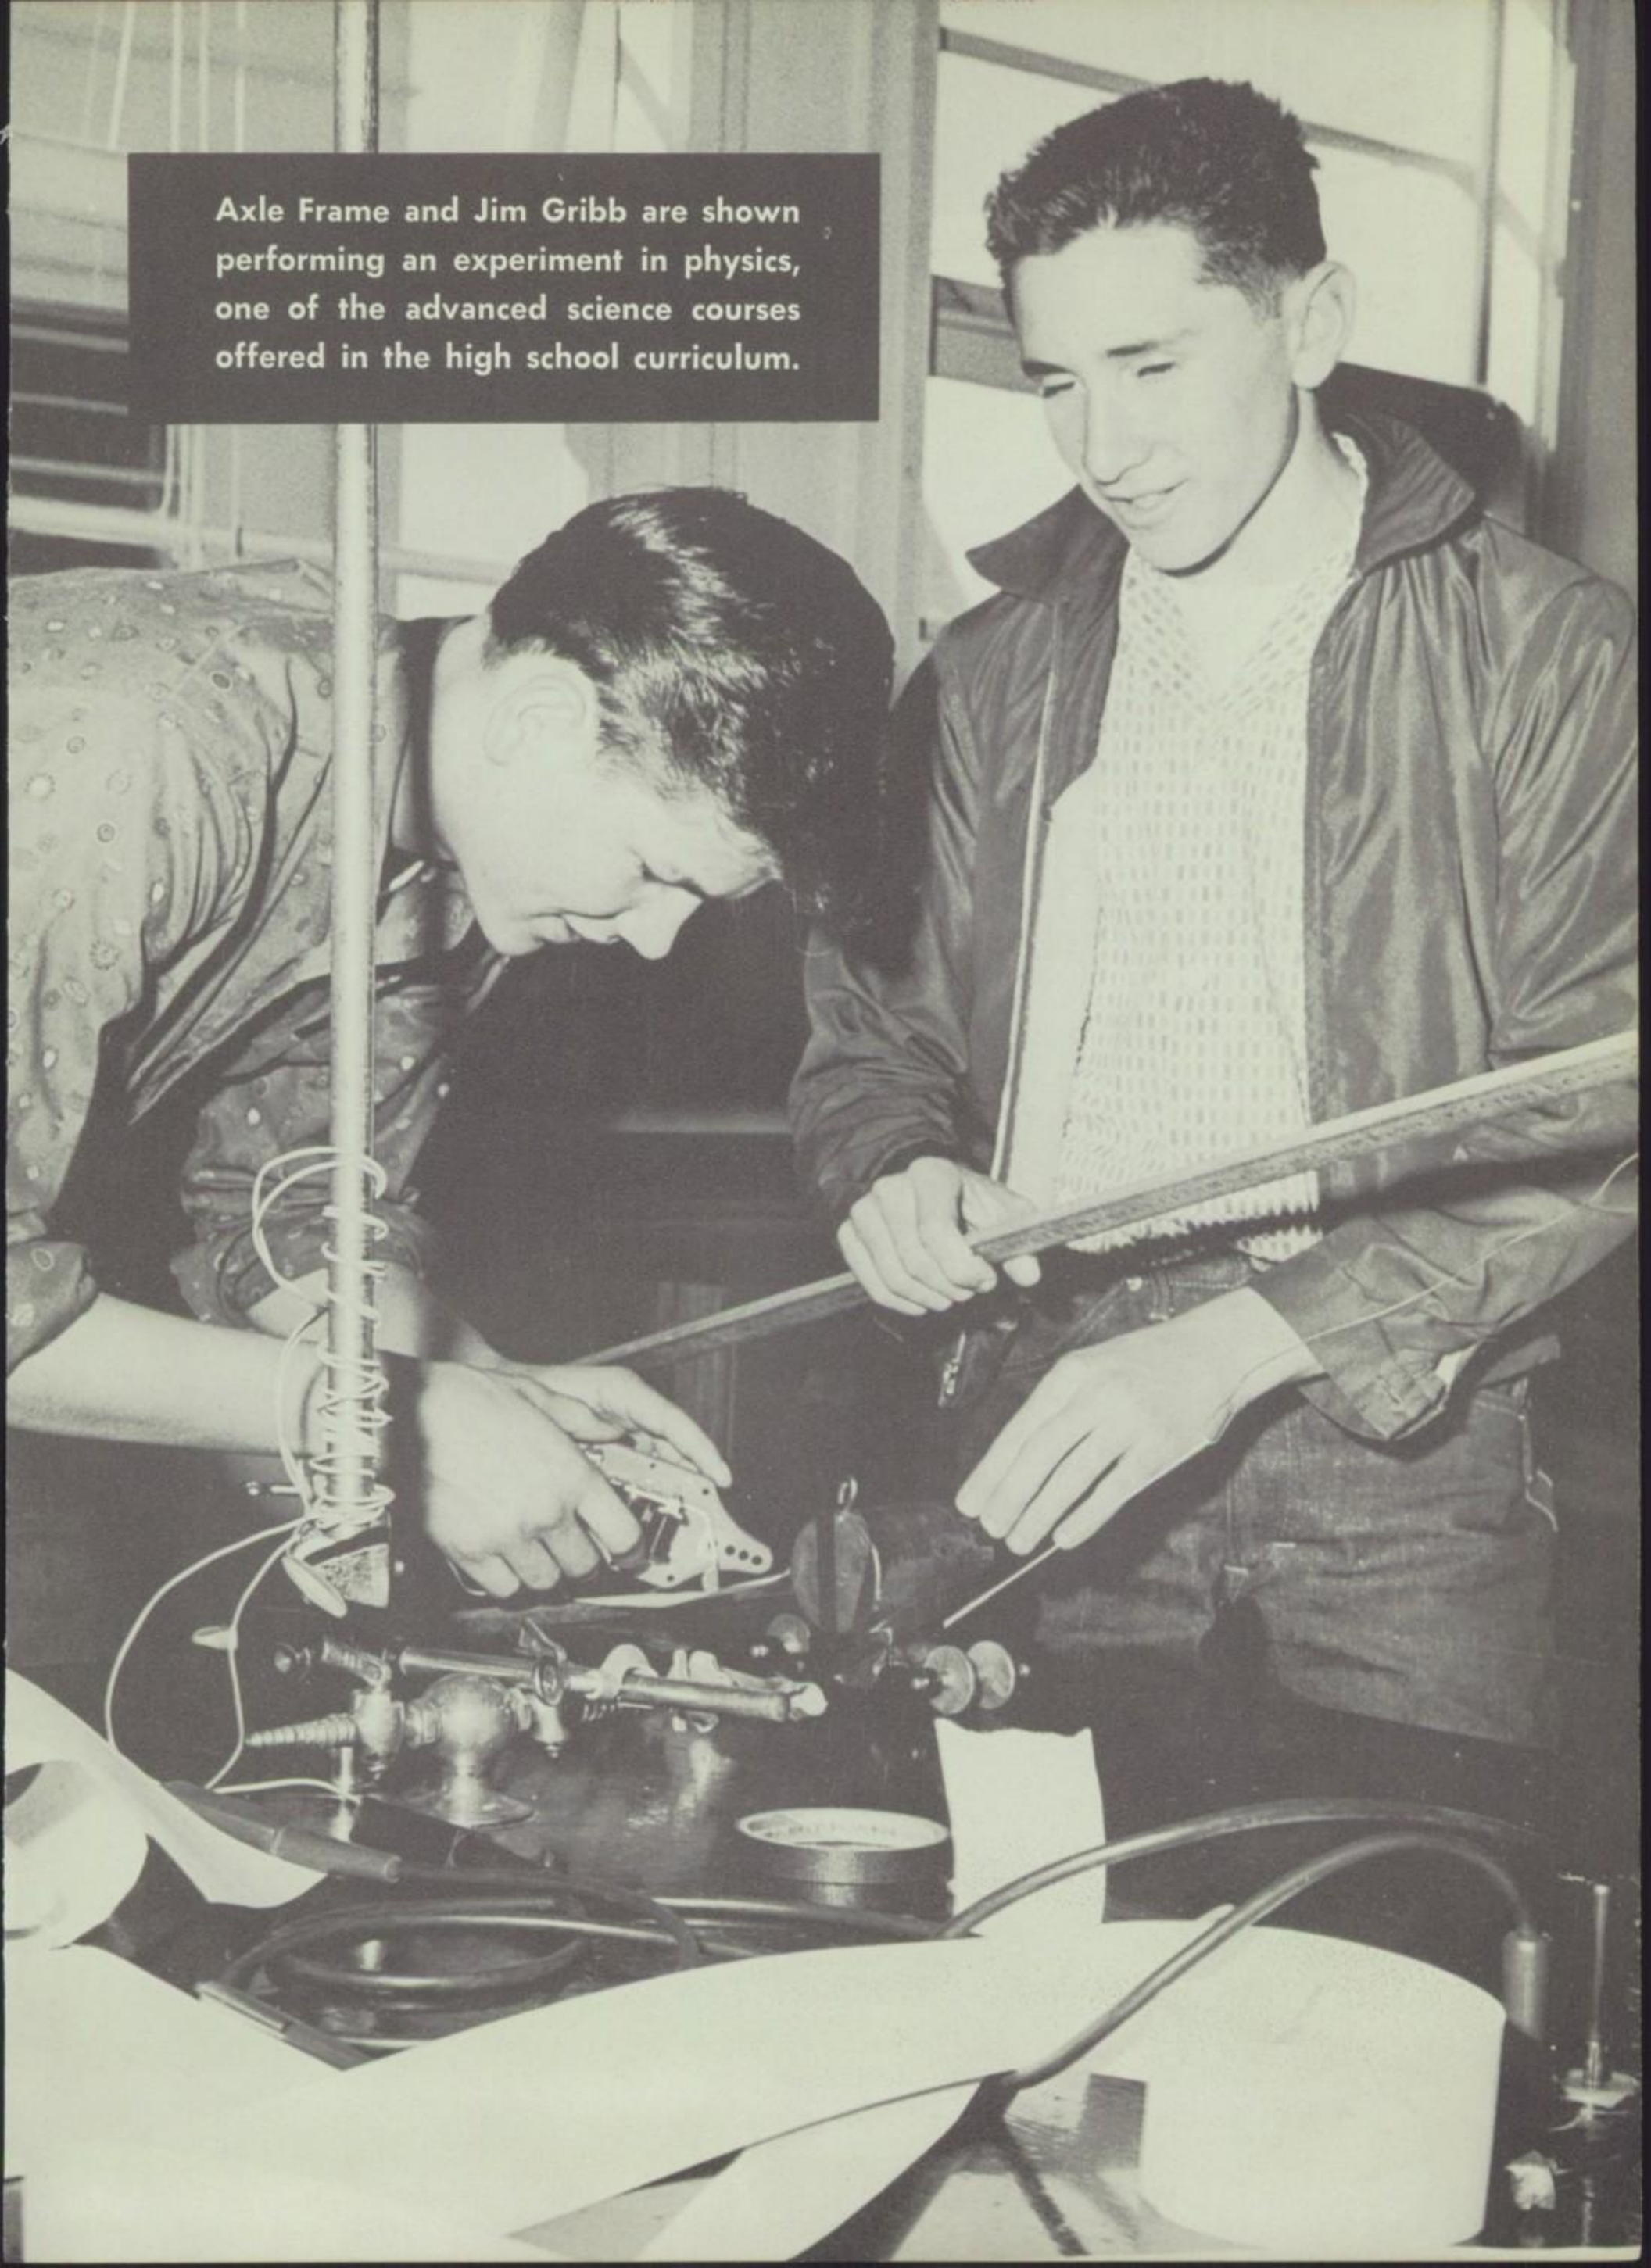
Students enjoy dancing to the music of the "Symphonics" at the Salinas-North Salinas joint dance following our victory the night before.

Some SHS students are taught to take dictation in shorthand. At the end of the year, these students compete for business awards.

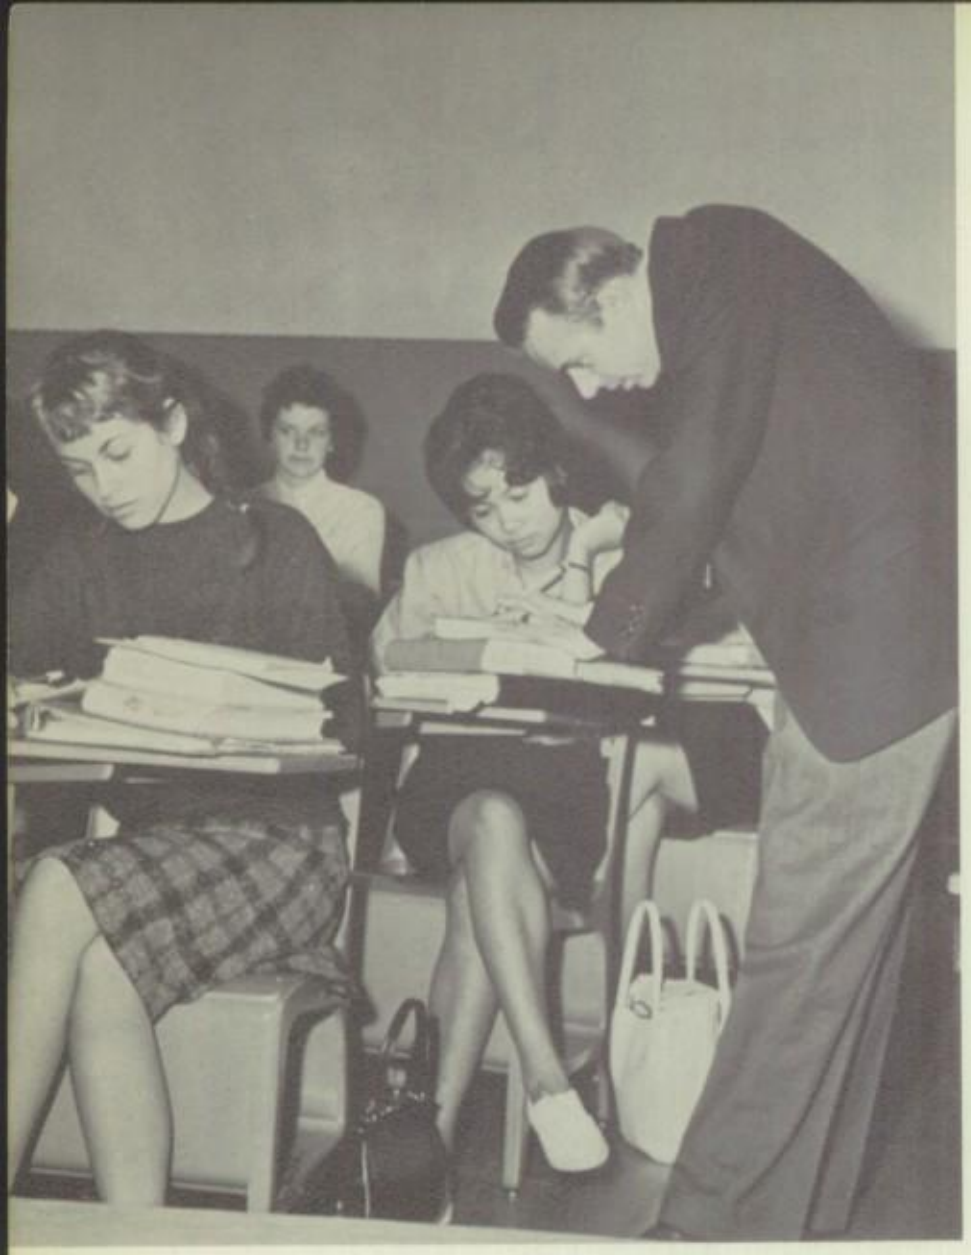
The clicking of typewriter keys is a familiar sound at SHS. Realizing the importance of being able to type, many students take advantage of the excellent typing instruction.



Business students learn to operate efficiently various office machines.

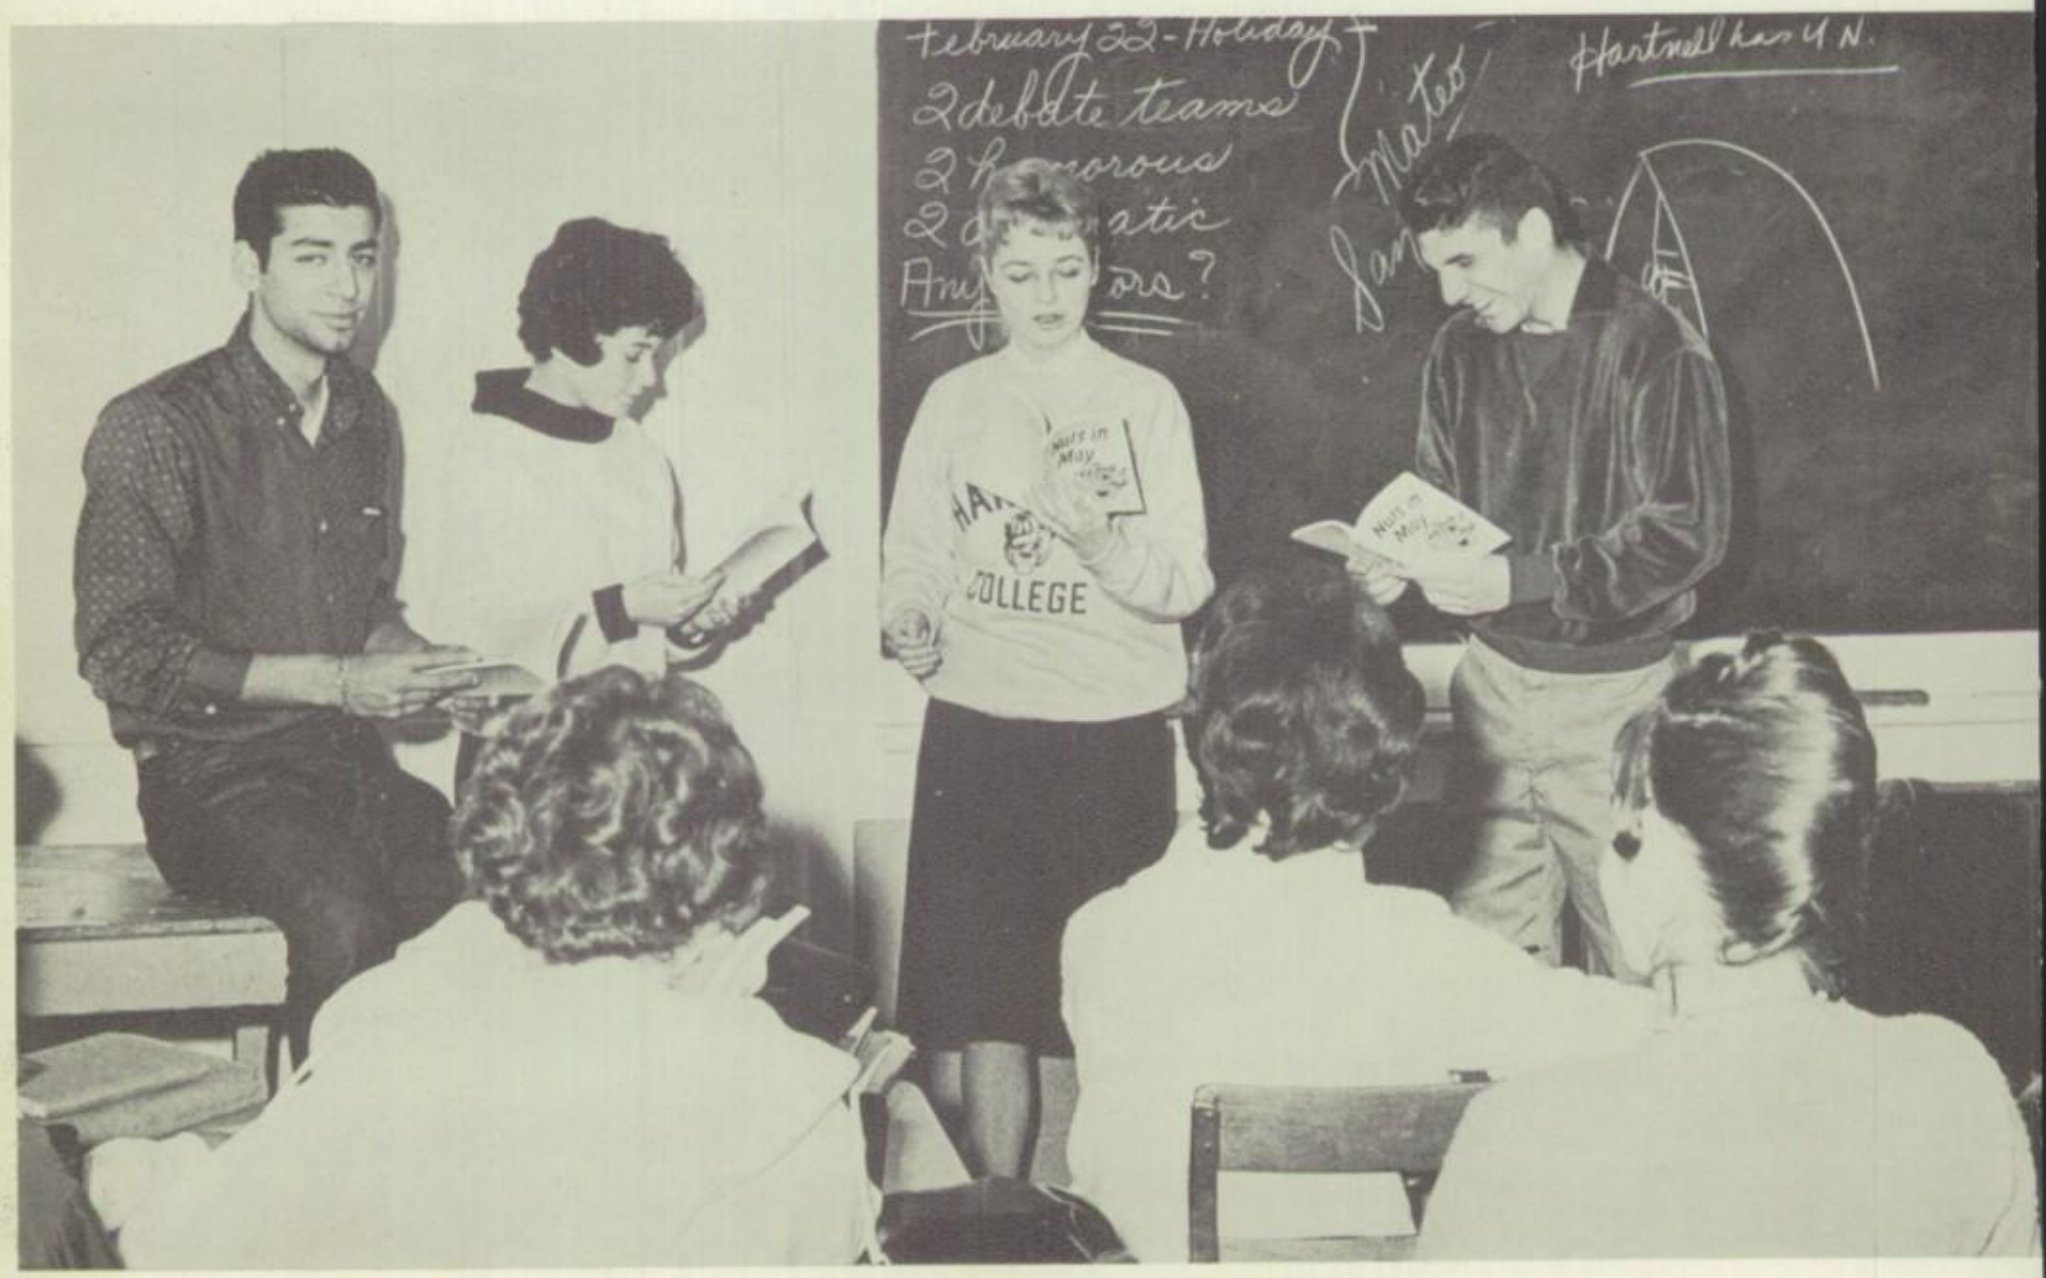


Axle Frame and Jim Gribb are shown performing an experiment in physics, one of the advanced science courses offered in the high school curriculum.

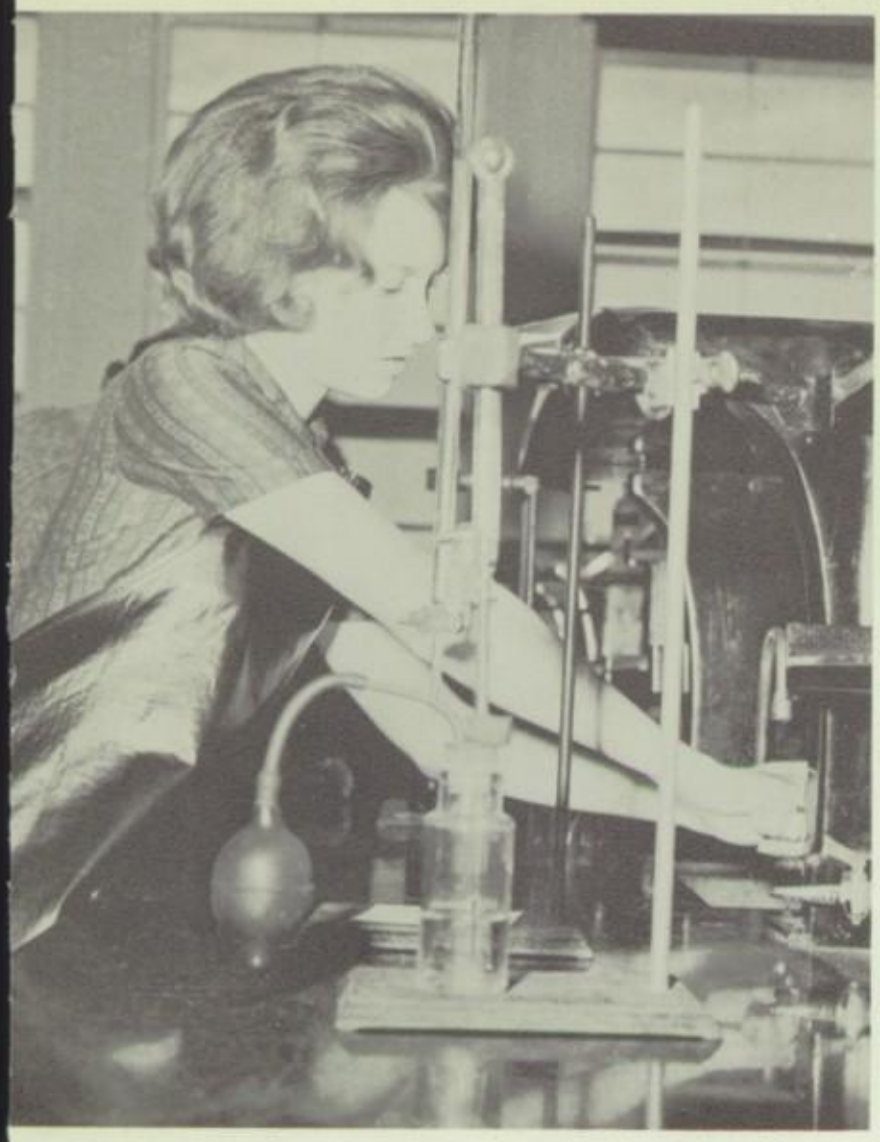


And what do all juniors have in common? Right! Junior English. Here Mr. Harden assists an English student with her assignment.

"A stitch in time saves nine." Students are taught to practice this parable in sewing classes.



A method of learning the technique of acting is observation. In the advanced drama class, students practice characterization while others offer constructive criticism.



Many new and interesting facts are introduced to first year chemistry students. Here Sally Hillman prepares an experiment on neutralization.

Mr. Pisor assists two mechanical drawing students in the precision drawings which the course requires.

"Clank, clank" is a familiar sound in SHS's auto shop. To add to the practical experience the boys receive on the cars, they also participate in classroom work.

In SHS cooking classes, Sharon Rogers and Peggy Bright are instructed on the quickest way to a man's heart.

Salinas High School students receive guidance during registration from Mrs. Fox, counselor.

SHS zombies, "back to back and belly to belly," stomp their stocking feet at the sophomore "Zombie Jamboree."

Music not only soothes the savage beast, but also SHS zombies. All evening zombies slid around the floor to swingin' records.

NOON HOUR

Many SHS'ers use the inner court to eat, drink, and be merry for the forty-minute lunch period.

On sunny days, the "village square" atmosphere of the inner court is enjoyed by hard working students.

Santa's reindeer arrive in the nick of time for Salinas High's annual Christmas Ball. Everyone enjoyed dancing down the "Snowflake Lane" to the music of the Steve Barry Combo.

Cupid's victims enjoyed the Valentine Ball sponsored by Salinas High Block "S." Besides Salinas students, North High was also invited to join the fun.

Ten Salinas High School senior girls displayed their hidden talents at the "Senior Exclusive." With all personalities beaming, they dazzled their audience with an original rendition of "A Man Without a Woman."

The class of '61 thoroughly enjoyed their "Senior Exclusive." A good time was had by all as they danced under signs reading "We Love Us" and "Seniors are the Bestest."

Among Larry Harris' most successful "Master of Ceremonies" roles was his performance at the "Senior Exclusive." He kept the evening jumping as seniors played games, enjoyed entertainment, and danced to records.

Interested seniors watched and enjoyed various members of their class entertain.

Campus Capers

Cha, cha, cha!

"Thank you."

"Burn the Viking!"

Spirit arises as the Salinas High pom-pon girls prance through another one of their colorful routines at a basketball game.

Many of Robin Hood's followers receive their training on SHS targets. Skill and coordination are important factors in becoming a good archer.

Delores Leon demonstrates her technique of various skills on the trampoline as the rest of the class observes.

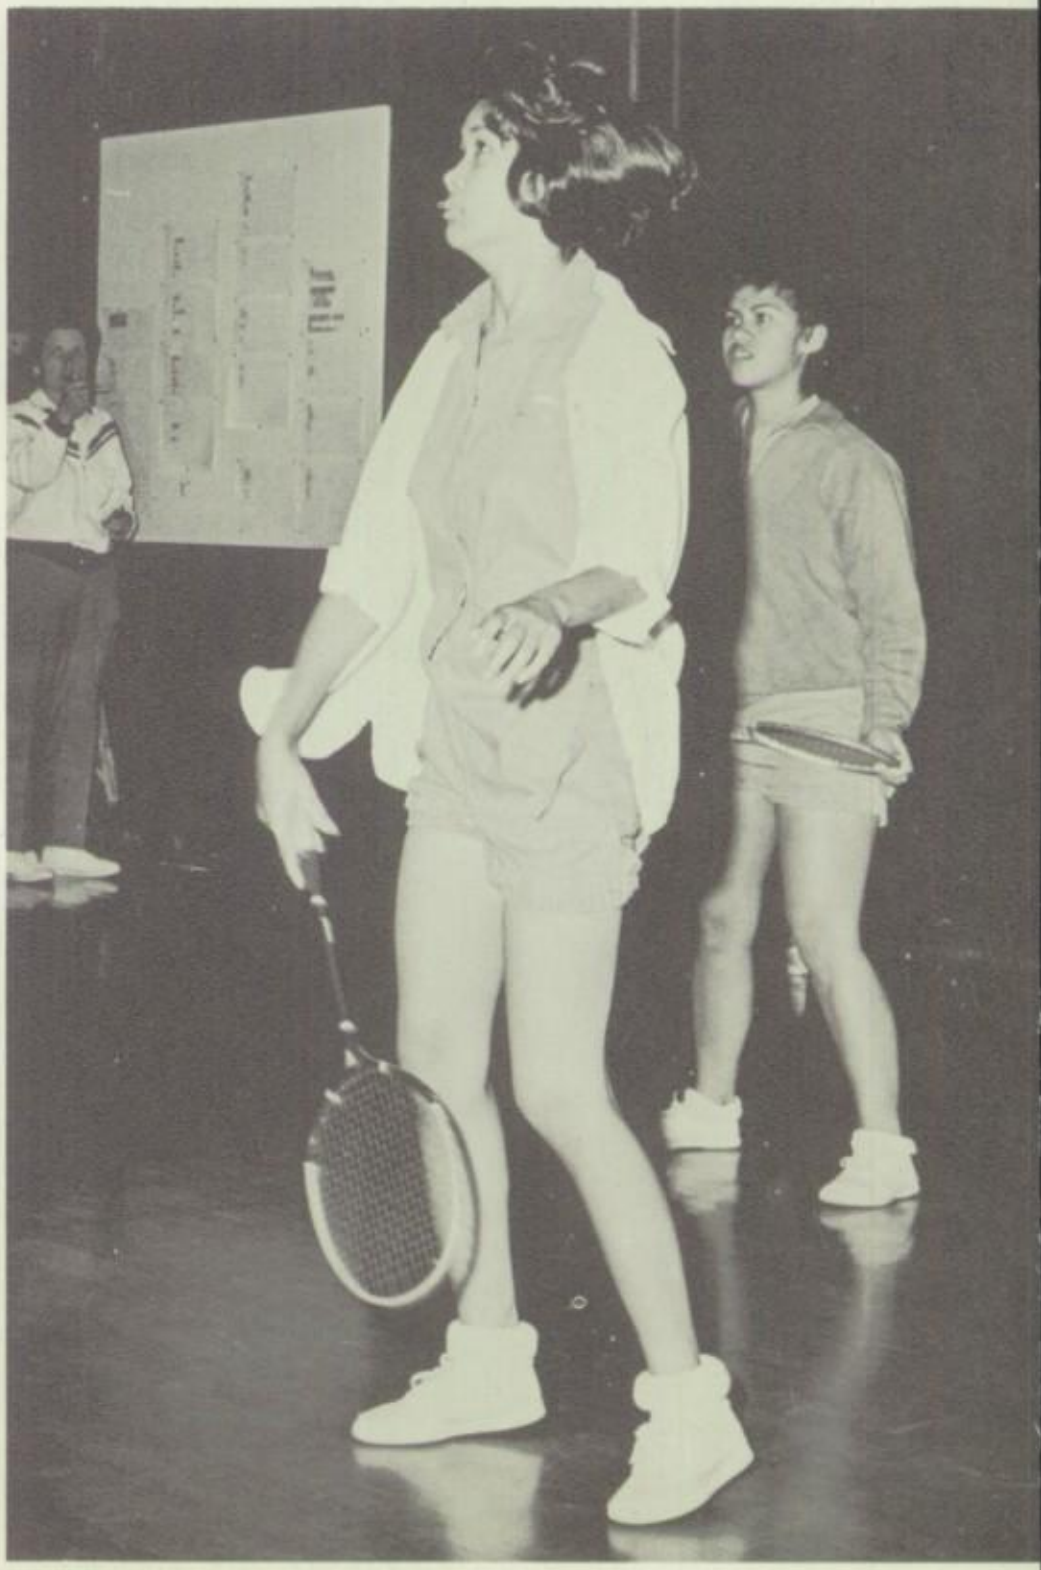
A combination of speed, teamwork, and skill produces an expert hockey team. Girls in the accelerated sixth period gym class swing mean hockey sticks.

The girls enjoy playing tennis. All of the different strokes are learned and competition is held in singles and doubles.

"Spike it!" is a familiar cry around the volleyball courts. Here the girls concentrate as the ball flies over the net.

STRETCH—2—3—4! Girls moan and groan through their daily exercises.

The girls play basketball by a different set of rules than the boys. This game teaches the girls speed, precision and good sportsmanship.



It's a bird! . . . a badminton birdie, that is. An exciting game of doubles is in progress as Miss Mackay, in the background, coaches.

Speed-a-way is a game of many skills. It is a combination of basketball, football, speedball and soccer. The importance of teamwork is stressed in this sport. it is one of the more strenuous games in which the girls get a real workout.

Mary Anne -
It's really been a pleasure having you in French. I'd wish you loads of luck if I thought others hadn't wished you enough to last a long time.

- Mary anne -
You're lucky you don't have a red face like I do!
English was fun! You have a winning personality and I hope to see you next year!

Mary Anne -
It's a wonderful girl, I sure have had fun knowing you. It has been a blast! I do hope we can get together this summer.
I also hope we will have a classes next year. Keep up the good work (like English) and best of luck with your remaining work.
Your friend always,
Phyllis White

Mary Anne,
Hasn't this year gone fast. Have a nice summer & good luck in all your classes next year.

Dearest Mac,

I have enjoyed your friendship more than words can say and I want to tell you that no matter what happens I will always consider you as my very best friend. We've had to much fun together to just toss it out the window and I hope I have said or ever say anything against you, you will call my attention to it. I'm sure your parents love you more than you think and also show more love. Remember, it takes two to tango (tangle)! However, you are real sweet and I love ya!

Be good and God bless you always,

Love,

, Mary Ann -

You are one of the sweetest girls
I know in my Dr. Ed & English classes. I love the crazy tan you've got.
It really looks neat. You are a very deserving person and I know you will get all that you deserve.

God Bless you and keep you always.

Love Ya,
